Title: Innovative Silvofishery Model in Restored Mangrove Forests: A 10-Year Assessment

Journal: Heliyon

Dear Dr Suyono,

Thank you for submitting your manuscript to Heliyon.

We have now received all of the editor and reviewer comments on your recent submission to Heliyon. Your paper will become acceptable for publication after implementation of the important formatting and/or administrative changes outlined below. Please note that if the resubmitted manuscript file does not address these issues, we may need to reject your manuscript.

Comments for authors to address:

We have identified changes to your Authorship list made after the initial round of review which we judge are not appropriate in this case. Please re-instate your original Authorship list upon re-submission of your manuscript. If you do not do this we may be forced to reconsider our decision for your submission and issue a reject decision.

Please add a Data and Code Availability statement in your manuscript file. Note that this information will be available alongside your article upon publication. You may use one of the following formats:

- [Standardized datatype] data have been deposited at [datatype-specific repository (URL to the repository)] with accession numbers [Database IDs].
- Data included in the article/supplementary material is referenced in the article.
- No new data was generated for the research described in the article.
- Data will be made available on request. For requesting data, please write to the corresponding author.

If not already included, please add a 'Data availability statement' in your manuscript along with the name of the repository and the accession number if applicable. The statement should be located right before the 'References' section.

Kindly review our ethics requirements and select all the relevant statements from our ethics declarations list (available here: <https://www.cell.com/heliyon/guide-for-authors>) to form a comprehensive ethics statement. This should be included in the declarations section at the end of your manuscript.

Furthermore, please ensure that the references in your manuscript are in a numbered format, if not already. To avoid unnecessary delays in the publication of your manuscript, please do not make any additional changes apart from those requested during this revision.

To submit your revised manuscript, please log in as an author at <https://www.editorialmanager.com/heliyon/>, and navigate to the "Submissions Needing Revision" folder under the Author Main Menu.

When submitting your revised manuscript, please ensure you upload only your most recent and up-to-date manuscript using the "Revised Manuscript File – with highlights (no tracked changes)." Use highlighting to indicate the revisions made in response to reviewer and editor comments. To ensure a smooth production process, please do not include any tracked changes in your manuscript file. This allows the production team to process your manuscript efficiently and minimises the risk of delays or miscommunication during the typesetting stage."

If you need additional time to address the concerns that came up in the review process, please let us know so we can discuss a plan for moving your paper forward.

We encourage authors of original research papers to share the research objects – including raw data, methods, protocols, software, hardware and other outputs – associated with their paper. More information on how our open

ELSEVIER

Dear Dr Suyono,

Thank you for completing the Publishing Agreement Form for your article Innovative Silvofishery Model in Restored Mangrove Forests: A 10-Year Assessment. Please find attached a copy of the "Journal Publishing (License) Agreement" which you completed online on January 20, 2025.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us. To help us assist you, please quote our article reference HLY_e42043 in all correspondence.

- create translations of the Article and authorize others to do so for non-commercial scholarly collaborations and sharing;
- publicly share the Article on non-commercial websites, such as institutional repositories; and
- post the Article on commercial scholarly collaboration websites for the purpose only of hosting by those websites.

Each author agrees not to license any third party to exercise all or any of the rights in the Article or any part of the Article for commercial purposes. Each author agrees to promptly refer any third party requests for a license of such rights to Elsevier Ltd.

Each author acknowledges the importance of the integrity, authenticity and permanence of the scholarly record and agrees that the version of the Article that appears or will appear in the journal and embodies all value-adding publisher activities (including peer review co-ordination, copy-editing, formatting, (if relevant) pagination, and online enrichment) shall be the definitive final record of published research.

Each author further acknowledges and agrees that nothing in this License Agreement shall be deemed to permit redundant/duplicate publication of the Article in violation of publishing ethics principles, as further described below.

Author's grant of rights in the Article

Each author hereby grants to Elsevier Ltd the following rights, effective from the date on which the Article is accepted for publication:

- a. the non-exclusive right to publish, reproduce, display, distribute and otherwise use the Article, or any part of the Article, for any purpose, in print, electronic and all other media (whether now known or later developed), and to prepare derivative works, in any form, in all languages, throughout the world, for the full term of copyright;
- b. the non-exclusive right to license third parties to exercise all or any of the rights granted herein for non-commercial purposes;
- c. the exclusive right to license third parties to exercise all or any of the rights granted herein for commercial purposes; and
- d. the right to enforce the rights granted herein against third parties.

In addition, each author has selected the Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial Works 4.0 International License ("the CC BY-NC License") and grants Elsevier Ltd the right to apply the CC BY-NC License to the Article where the Article is published in the journal on Elsevier Ltd's and/or the publisher's online platforms on an Open Access basis. Full details of the CC BY-NC License are available at <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/>.

Supplemental Materials and Research Data

"Supplemental Materials" shall mean materials published as a supplemental part of the Article, including but not limited to graphical, illustrative, video and audio material.

"Research Data" shall mean the result of observations or experimentation that validate research findings and that are published separate to the Article, which can include but are not limited to raw data, processed data, software, algorithms, protocols and methods.

With respect to any Supplemental Materials and/or Research Data that an author submits, that author retains all rights in such Supplemental Materials and/or Research Data and hereby grants Elsevier Ltd a perpetual worldwide, non-exclusive right and license to publish, extract, reformat, adapt, build upon, index, redistribute, link to and otherwise use all or any part of the Supplemental Materials and/or Research Data in all forms and media (whether now known or later developed), and permit others to do so.

Where Elsevier Ltd and/or the publisher publish the Article on their online platforms on an Open Access basis and publish the Supplemental Materials with the Article, Elsevier Ltd and/or the publisher shall apply the same end user license to the Supplemental Materials as to the Article. Where an author has selected a specific end user license under which the Research Data is to be made available on a site or through a service, Elsevier Ltd and/or the publisher shall apply that end user license to the Research Data on that site or service.

Reversion of rights

Articles may sometimes be accepted for publication but later rejected in the publication process, even in some cases after public posting in "Articles in Press" form, in which case all rights granted to Elsevier Ltd under this License Agreement will revert to the author (see <https://www.elsevier.com/about/policies-and-standards/article-withdrawal>).
