Cooking competition

Oriental

When I was in junior high school, I took part in a cooking competition at my school. It was my first time participating in a race and it was also my first time cooking myself.

Events

There were 45 participants in the race and all of our parents were there to witness the process. I've decided that I want to make fried rice. So I started by peeling the garlic and shallots. After that I chopped both into very small pieces and placed them on a small spring. I also sliced two sprigs of red chili and placed them together on the small plate earlier. When the preparation is over, I start cooking. I put the frying pan on the stove. I put a tablespoonful of butter in the frying pan and then I turned on the burner. When the butter started to melt I added the chili sauce to the pan then I stirred it with a spatula. When I could smell the nice aromas of the butter and chili sauce, I added a tablespoon of oyster sauce and all the spices I had placed on the small plate into the frying pan and stirred for just 10 seconds. After that I added a plate full of rice to that frying pan and stirred everything together until the spices and rice were perfectly mixed. Lastly, I add some soy sauce and salt to it and mix it into the fried rice.

Reoriental

that was an impressive experience even though I didn't win but I really enjoyed participating in the cooking competition.

After I Graduate Later

By: Frida Bella Septiana

Two years ago, I graduated from high school. I am very happy with my grades because I was selected as one of the students who were selected to get an invitation to a state university.

I prepared the necessary documents to be registered, but it turned out that I did not pass the invitation selection. I am thinking of taking the university test instead. My family does not allow me to continue studying outside the area. I was so sad to hear that, until my chance was missed. One year later, I told my parents that I would still take the state university exam. When I was about to start registering, my grandmother cried, not allowing me to study outside the city. It made me feel worried, then my grandmother was admitted to the hospital. And at that time, I decided to study near my place. I majored in English education at the university of my city. It was really beyond my expectations. One reason I took English education was because I saw a university Tik Tok account that said "If you want to learn English from scratch, join us" something like that. I'm not too interested in this major, not according to my wishes.

A few months after I registered, I finally started going to college. I thought I would not feel comfortable going through lectures that were not to my liking. Until finally I read a book by a local author. The book has quotes like this "There are always stories that are never told in full." I started to think, if I were accepted at a state university, would it be possible for me to make friends who are very good to me like my friends at this university? And I learned a lot from them, whatever destiny we will live in, if there are good people around you the world is not too bad. It's a gift, thank you so much to my friends and good people around me.

Mystery

It's Eid night, our family gathered at my grandmother's house. As usual, my cousin and I stayed up late. We talked a lot and started to starve. Finally, we sneaked into the kitchen looking for some snacks. But on the way, we heard the sound of people chatting in the dining room. I tried to figure out who else stays up late like us. How surprised I was, to find the dining room was very quiet. We tried to act normal and walked quickly to our room. We completely forgot about our former hunger.

orientation

In 2013 when I was in elementary school. I have a dream to go to college and major in English. Because, at that time, I really liked my English teacher who is now a lecturer at UPS Tegal.

events

Over time, while in high school, I started thinking about going to a public university and I really dreamed of being able to pass the entrance test. I also started trying to learn to take the Sbmptn test. Then, it was time for me to take the test. However, when I did the English sub-test there, I couldn't do all the questions because the processing time was very short and the type of questions contained story questions.

After I finished taking the test, I started to feel very pessimistic about passing. But I always pray and ask Allah to give me the best thing. It's time for the announcement of sbmptn. I really feel pessimistic and resigned. However, my family continued to provide support and advice, which made me start to be optimistic.

Re-orientation

When I opened the announcement there, I was really sad because I was declared not to pass go, and in the end I decided to enter ups Tegal.

In 2015, when I was studying in grade 6 of elementary school, I always got bullying every day in my class.

Then I also searched for these items as hard as I could but did not find them either until I gave up and cried. After seeing me give up and cry, then the items were returned to me.

Weekend With My Family

Orientation

Last May, my family and I decided to spend a day at the beach. We packed our bags with towels, sunscreen, and snacks. after that, headed to our favourite spot by the ocean.

Events

As soon as we arrived, we set up our beach carpet and umbrellas and started applying sunscreen. The sun was shining brightly, and the ocean was a deep blue color. The sound of the waves crashing against the shore was peaceful and relaxing.

We spent the morning swimming in the ocean and playing in the sand. My younger siblings built sandcastles and collected seashells, while my parents relaxed on the carpet and drink a coconut ice. We also took a walk along the beach and admired the beautiful scenery.

For lunch, we had a picnic on the beach with noodles, mendoan, and fruit. We enjoyed our meal while listening to music and watching the waves. After lunch, we took a nap in the shade of our umbrellas, feeling the cool breeze and hearing the sound of seagulls.

In the afternoon, we rented some toys such as the All Terrain Vehicle ("ATV") to go around the beach. it feels so good to be by the beach, feeling the sun on our skin and the wind in our hair.

Reorientation

THE DAY THAT I BECAME

My childhood was however pretty normal as I also well behavior child like the other child once. But like the life give your hope but it also give you sad reality. Reality that change me for today onward.

When I was kid, from the start of my precious yet disaster elementary school. I was always however studied from the other books to another books. I studied every books that I can my hands on, especially history and sociology. I was pretty smart as you can see for learn those things for such early age. It was all thanks to my totalitarian parents, especially my mother, as her thinks that study was all that matters. It was prove to be fatal mistake. You see my father was pretty old and for you noted that he himself was the one and only who work to feed his family. He was working for France oil company refinery in Kalimantan called Total, so he was brought with him decent amount of money. But after he retired when I was still in 5th grade elementary school, my family struggle for meet daily basis. My mom however gave up her family, she said that my father who was to blame as she think that he gave up his own family for not looking for another job. They are not divorce yet. But it's all doesn't matter.

So after that, all that my studies feel useless. After all, no matters how many you studied if all just go right to your head and you can implemented in your life is a waste. You need practical experience.

So I became rebellious child, after all who is not. When someone gave your dream but they were the one who destroy it. I just feel betrayed. When someone used to say to me "blood only makes people related but responsibility makes us family". I became who I am.

I spent my last summer holiday in Seoul, South Korea. (I went there with my friends.)

On the first day, I was landed at Incheon Airport around 7 AM after a 6 hours long flight. Then I went to Seoul by train and checked in to the hotel I already booked. I decided to take a rest for a while. At night, I went to Hongdae, a famous district in South Korea. I went to eat traditional Korean food. On the next day, I went to the Gyeongbokgung Palace and National Museum. I also went to learn how to make Kimchi and see the scenery of Seoul from Seoul tower. I went back to the hotel at 10 PM and immediately went to sleep.
